

Jewish Resistance Questions-Answers

1.The Nazis hid all plans of killing jews just up until the invasion of Poland. When the invasion happened many people were disgusted.

2.Many people were never brave enough to join one, and many were stopped almost immediately.

3.Yes, one Hitler could've been killed in WW1. A British soldier chose not to shoot him, because he was gravely wounded. Two people could just have denied the Nazi party.

4.If you did you would face execution if caught. If you didn't people would die and you couldn't say that you tried.